

BARHOUSE

Fine Barware, Whiskey Flasks & Glassware — Crafted for the Modern Bar

Barhouse.in is a home-grown bar & drinkware label bringing together hand-finished hip flasks, crystal-cut decanters, whiskey glasses and novelty shot glasses under one roof. Every collection on the website is built around a simple idea — the way a drink is served matters as much as the drink itself. This presentation walks through four of our most-loved keyword categories, one slide at a time, with a direct link through to the live collection on barhouse.in.

ON-THE-GO DRINKWARE

Hip Flask

A hip flask is the one bar accessory built for outside the bar — slim enough for a jacket pocket, sealed tight enough to trust with good whiskey, rum or bourbon.

The BARHOUSE range is stitched in genuine leather over a steel body, so it survives treks, road trips, weddings and long flights without a dent or a leak.

Hand-tooled artwork, screw-tight caps and a satisfying weight in the palm make these flasks a favourite pick for groomsman gifting and corporate hampers alike.

HOME BAR CENTREPIECE

Whiskey Flaska

Where the hip flask travels, the whiskey flaska stays home — a diamond-cut crystal decanter that turns a bottle of whiskey into a display piece on the bar cart.

The heavy square base and ridged glass are cut to catch light from every angle, and the airtight stopper keeps the spirit resting exactly the way it should.

Pair it with a set of matching rock glasses from BARHOUSE for a housewarming gift or a Diwali hamper that actually gets used, not just admired.

SIP IN STYLE

Whiskey Glasses

A whiskey glass is judged by two things — how it sits in the hand, and how it holds the aroma. BARHOUSE glasses are built heavy at the base for exactly that reason.

From gold-rimmed enamel detailing to classic diamond-cut crystal, every design in the collection is meant to make a neat pour or an old fashioned look the part.

Sold as singles or as gifting sets, they're a straightforward way to upgrade any home bar shelf without touching the bottle at all.

PARTY & BARWARE

Vodka Shot Glass

Shot glasses are small by design but they carry the mood of a party — quick pours of vodka or tequila that get a table talking.

BARHOUSE's shot glass line runs from classic thick-base tumblers to conversation-starting novelty shapes, all cast in dishwasher-safe, chip-resistant glass.

Stock a set for game nights, bar carts or festive gifting — they're inexpensive to build a collection of and impossible to have too many of.
